BESSEY Tool

For the First Time at BAU in Munich!

BESSEY will be exhibiting at BAU in Munich, the hotspot of the construction industry, from January 13 to 17, 2025. This international meeting place invites visitors to gather information, exchange ideas, test products and make contacts. And that's why BESSEY can also be found here with its extensive range of clamping and cutting tools.

BESSEY will be welcoming visitors to stand 403 in hall C6, where tool manufacturers will be presenting themselves to the trade fair public. They can immerse themselves in the fascinating world of BESSEY and experience live on an area of almost 50 square meters how the many quality tools provide optimum support in the implementation of a wide variety of construction projects. The focus will be on our one-hand clamp models with their individual strengths, the most powerful ceiling props with a wide range of accessories as well as special tools for fitting door chucks and for working on the multifunction table. Of course, we also show many tools for work around the roof and for use in interior work. This naturally also includes our handy tin snips. All products, including our latest innovations, can be tested extensively. The BESSEY team will be on hand to answer any questions and provide expert advice to visitors to the stand.
